

EQUINE ACUPRESSURE : PERICARDIUM MERIDIAN

● FIRE ELEMENT
HEART, SMALL INTESTINE,
PERICARDIUM, SAN JIAO

Acupoint	Location	Uses
PC 1	on the lateral thorax in the 5th intercostal space at the level of the elbow, on the border of the ascending pectoral muscle.	facilitates lactation, cough, trouble breathing, cinchy behavior, muscle tension in chest, can indicate front foot problems.
PC 3 (not pictured)	on the medial side of the transverse cubital crease in a depression just lateral to the tendon of the bicep brachii muscle.	heart palpitations, trouble breathing, cough, shoulder or elbow pain, irritability due to tightness in chest.
PC 6	cranial to the mid-point of the chestnut.	heart palpitations, chest pain or tension, coughing, bloating, mouthy behavior, digestive issues, Synchronous Diaphragmatic Flutter, improves lactation, tight muscles, colic, loose stool, diarrhea, choke, powerful calming point, restlessness, agitation, trouble relaxing, difficulty focusing, fight or flight problems, irritable, mouthy, fearful, easily startled, teeth grinder, tongue sucker.
PC 7	at the level of the accessory carpal bone, on the medial side of front leg. Opposite Ht 7.	chest pain, seizures, local for carpal issues.
PC 9	between the heel bulbs of the front foot.	hyperactivity, anhydrosis, laminitis, navicular disease.